ANTIOCH FIREMEN SAVE $60,000 FARM FROM FIRE THREAT

Hot Electric Wires Almost Send Hyatt Estate to Destruction

Members of the Antioch Fire department saved the $60,000 farm residence and buildings on the Roger C. Hyatt estate, 8 miles east of Antioch, near the Millburn Hunt club from threatening fire destruction at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The danger was discovered and reported by farmhands on their way to work who found smoke rising from electric wires that were running into the barn. Further investigation revealed that the metal conduits carrying the wires were red hot.

The Antioch firemen threw the electric switches upon their arrival and immediately called engineers from the Public Service company of Northern Illinois who cut the electric power at the transformer.

No one of the Hyatt family was at home, and the electric power apparently short-circuited, had burned out all of the electrical equipment in the buildings, including water pumps, heaters and motors in the heating plant.

The farm, known as the old Pierce place, includes two residence buildings and huge stables where Hyatt, a Chicago banker, keeps nine jumping horses and other prize winning stock.

VILLAGE FATHERS ATTEND CONCLAVE

Antioch Delegation Leaves for Municipal League Sessions at Quincy

Mayor George B. Bartlett announced his official Antioch delegation this week to attend the 22nd annual state convention of the Illinois Municipal League, which will open a three-day session in Quincy today (Thursday).

The local delegation, which left Antioch yesterday, includes the mayor; Village Trustees Walter I. Scott and Fred Hawkins; and Fire Chief James Stearns.

Due to the large number of meetings scheduled, each of these delegates will attend certain meetings and report back to the village council here after the convention ends.

Authorities and experts on municipal problems are scheduled to address the delegates and one of the features of the conference will be discussion of the many new laws passed in the recent session of the general assembly which applies to municipalities.

Among such subjects will be the address of Thomas A. Matthews of the legal division of the league, who will discuss the validity of the 1935 public utility gross receipts tax act as it applies to cities and villages. There will also be an exchange of experiences with officers from other municipalities.

The Village of Antioch has been a member of the municipal league for eight years.

Gov. Horner May Call Special Legislative Session for October

Although there is much conjecture around the State House at Springfield as to when Gov. Henry Horner will call his special session of the legislature, best information indicates that the session will be called the first week in October. One of the main questions which will be in the call will be changing of the Old Age Pension law to conform to the Federal law. The two principal changes are the length of residence in the state and the amount of property a person must possess in order to be eligible under the act. The Governor is being flooded with requests that certain matters be taken up which seems to mean that the people do not seem to care how long the special session lasts.

Pikeville Man Hurt in Traffic Accident

Happy Lange of Pikeville suffered several bruises and broken ribs Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Raymond Haurie, 2705 E. 8th ave., Zion, crashed the automobile she was driving head-on into Lange's machine. She was driving her car in a funeral procession headed for Mount Olivet cemetery, along Rt. 173, and pulled out of line when the brakes failed to work as the procession slowed down to make a turn on Kenosha road, causing the crash. Both cars were demolished but while severely injured, neither driver nor the three occupants of the woman's car were killed.

Delinquent Tax List of Antioch, Newport, Lake Villa Published

Delinquent tax assessment lists for the Townships of Antioch, Lake Villa, and Newport appear in this issue of the Antioch News. The delinquent special assessment list for the Village of Antioch can likewise be found on page 4 of this edition.

Judgment against the properties listed will be asked in the County Court on September 30 by County Treasurer Allen J. Nelson. On October 14, all the lands and lots will be exposed to public sale in the County Court room of the Court House in Waukegan, for the amount of taxes, special taxes, special assessments, interest, penalties and cost due. The sale will begin at 9 o'clock, a. m., October 14, and will continue from day to day until sales are completed.

PWA Project At Washington For Approval

Word was received here yesterday that Antioch's formal application to the PWA for a federal grant of 45 percent of approximately $23,000 to be used for alterations and additions to the village hall and fire station has been received by the authorities at Washington.

The application, which was filed September 5 at the Chicago office of the PWA, has passed through the preliminary stages of the regional authorities with the proper "okay" and must now be approved at the Federal Capitol.

The village board is seeking all information possible on the status of the public benefit and special assessment bonds pursuant to any questions that may arise regarding them in the village's financial set-up. The village has no bonded indebtedness.

With approval for the $23,000 government grant, the following improvement will be started on the village hall: an addition to the north of the present building, 20 feet by 70 feet, with a second floor to be used as an auditorium, approximately 40 feet by 70 feet. The first floor will comprise the present rooms used for fire apparatus and the council chamber with the addition to the north for a library, entrance hall, stairways and lavatories, while the basement will have added a large room for the use of the Legion, Boy Scouts, civic clubs and other organizations.

CONSTITUTION DAY FORMALLY OBSERVED BY ANTIOCH PUPILS

S. E. Pollock Addressed Students on 148th Anniversary of Constitution

Antioch high and upper grade school students gathered in the high school auditorium Tuesday morning to pay homage to the United States Constitution on the 148th anniversary of its signing and to hear S. E. Pollock in a powerful address on "Americanism."

Following the presentation of this address, Mr. Pollock, who is one of the 100 charter members of Vigilante America in Lake county and a member of the county committee, presented "Flag Books" to the grade school rooms and the high school teachers in behalf of the Vigilante. Presentation of the books will be made in all the rural schools of the community and several volumes are to be added to the high school library, he explained.

The Rev. Fr. F. M. Flaherty of St. Peter's Catholic church addressed the group on "The Flag," in which he declared that the Constitution was an enduring document fundamentally different in basic principles of government from all other nations.

The observance was opened with a prayer by the Rev. L. V. Sitter of the M. E. church and closed with prayer by the Rev. J. E. Charles of St. Ignace Episcopal church. Ralph B. Claiborn, grade school principal, led the group in reading the "Allegiance to the Flag."

McMillen Topples Pole with Tackle; Plummer Wins, Too

After helping the Chicago Bears thrash the Kenosha All-Stars 41 to 0, Sunday, Jim McMillen of Antioch tucked away his football equipment long enough to maintain his leading contender hold on the heavyweight wrestling championship of the world by pinning the pulverizing Pole, Frank Brodewicz, with a series of flying tackles in 23 minutes and 9 seconds. The bout took place in the Chicago Stadium Monday night on the same card that saw Champ Danny G'Nabony pin Joe Savoldi. In one of the prelims, Waukegan Lou Plummer met the full-bearded Russian, Sergei Kalnikoff, winning the match in 12 minutes, 22 seconds because Sergei was unable to continue after being tossed out of the ring.

Anderson Lunches with Steel Magnates

C. K. Anderson is in attendance today at a luncheon given by officials of the United States Steel Corporation at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago. The Antioch bank president was formerly vice president of one of the subsidiary companies of the corporation. The meetings of the steel magnates are seldom held farther west than Pittsburg, and the meeting today, which brings together the eastern heads with the mid-west officials is regarded as significant for the industry in the central states.

Lake County Men Seek Defeat of Roosevelt-Horner

A statewide tour with the object in view of obtaining pledge cards for the defeat of President Roosevelt and Governor Horner, will be started in a few days by State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville and William J. Stratton of Ingleside, Republican candidates for secretary of state, an office formerly held by him.

The two Lake County men are hopeful of obtaining fully half a million of these pledge cards.

This campaign will be similar to one carried out by Lyons and Stratton who spoke in every county in the state in the 1934 campaign. The pledge group of the Republican party is carrying out this campaign independently of the regular party activities.

FORMER RESIDENT BURIED HERE TODAY

Mr. Lieber was born two miles north of Antioch, but left this locality early in life. For many years he was in the hardware business in Chicago, and was formerly a salesman for the Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett company. The Lieber family will be remembered by many of the older residents of the community.

He is survived by his wife, Helen, and one brother, Albert J. Lieber, of Galesburg, Ill.

ANTIOCH FAIR ENTRIES NEAR CLOSING DATE

Twelfth Annual Show to Be Largest in Its History

That the Antioch Country Fair is recognized as outstanding by Illinois and neighboring state ruralists is evidenced by the unusual demand for entry blanks this year. It opens on the high school grounds October 3-4-5. Together with the addition of $500 in the premium list this fall and the Antioch Fair's reputation for "the toughest competition outside of the big money shows in the middle west," more exhibitors than ever before in the 12 years of its history are filing entries.

Grade School to Compete
In the Class J, or Education division, which has been restricted to the graded and high schools of Lake county, it was learned this week that the pupils of the Antioch Grade school are preparing a display depicting the early pioneering history of Antioch and Lake county. The Fair provides an 8-foot booth with floor, table, and wall space in which a school displays one definite project which is educational and at the same time of interest to the public.

The Future Farmers of the Antioch Township high school who have been gathering prize ribbons with their exhibits from fairs throughout the state, will likewise enter their stock and poultry in the Antioch competition. It is announced by O. L. Kuitl, director of the vocational agriculture department of the high school.

Some Classes Close Early
Entries in the rabbit and fur-bearing animal class close Saturday, the Fair officials point out. One week from Saturday, on September 23, exhibitors in the dairy cattle and poultry and pigeon classes must have their entries in Secretary Emmet King's hands. Other entries positively close Thursday, October 3, at 6:00 p. m.

Aside from the exhibits, the Fair has provided a variety of entertainment for the city dweller as well as the farmer. One of the features will be the Frank's Trained Animal circus with all kinds of dogs, ponies, goats, and pigs as the performers. There will be a performance in the afternoon and in the evening.

Music, Style Show, Too
The Antioch Township high school band is scheduled to provide band concerts and the Skokie Valley Boys, of WLS radio fame, are on the elaborate entertainment program. A display of the Fall styles for misses and ladies is to be presented by Marianne's of Antioch, while Klass' men's store will present a style parade of what the well-dressed man will wear this season.

Fishing Is Good at Lake Marie

More than a hundred fine fish were taken by fishermen from Lake Marie Tuesday, according to Bert Roberts, veteran resort owner and fishermen's chief adviser to those who visit the west shore of the well known lake. This catch was made despite the rain in the sport that has been the rule during the last few days of warm weather. Experienced fishermen, according to Roberts, know their fish and with the advent of the unseasonable heat they pulled for the deeper waters where they had their usual good luck. Many anglers from Chicago have visited Lake Marie regularly for the last quarter of a century.

Wilmot Eleven Opens 1935 Football Year at Walworth Friday

Although there are few veterans on this season's roster, Wilmot's Union Free high school will open the 1935 football season tomorrow (Friday) against Walworth on the latter's gridiron. Pre-season reports from the Fox River Terrors indicate that Wilmot has the most promising material in its football history and will place a squad on the field with ideal weight and speed. The schedule for the 1935 campaign follows: Sept. 27, Rochester at Wilmot; Oct. 3, Wilmot at East Troy; Oct. 13, Watford at Wilmot; Oct. 25, Wilmot at Mukwonago; Nov. 11, Union Grove at Wilmot; Nov. 21, Wilmot at Williams Bay.

Sorensons Off on Fishing Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sorenson left Monday on a vacation and fishing trip to their property on Buffalo Lake, near Glidden, Wis. "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the Democratic leader said on the eve of his departure in quest of what he hopes will be some fine specimens of the funny tribe. Local anglers say Buffalo Lake is noted for bass, and Sorenson declares they are absolutely right.

WHAT ABOUT "SEED" FOR THE FUTURE?

A perusal of important provisions of the Revenue Act of 1935 (the "soak-the-rich" tax bill) should satisfy the most ardent "share-the-wealth" advocate.

For the past several years, leading tax boosters in Congress have pointed out that this country could stand still higher taxes because our levies on business and income had not yet reached the figures in leading European countries.

Just why we should try to break the European record of debt-ridden and bankrupt nations, has never been explained. But our congressional tax boosters have apparently won their goal. Along with breaking many other world's records, we will apparently soon claim the high tax record—if we have not already secured that unenviable distinction.

When one reads over the percentage of earnings taken by the various income taxes, surtaxes, corporation taxes, excess profits taxes, capital stock taxes and estate taxes, etc., one begins to wonder what the future of American earnings and savings will be.

Take the surtaxes alone: They start at 31 per cent on $50,000; then 51 per cent on $80,000, 73 per cent on $1,000,000 and 75 per cent on over $5,000,000.

If a man leaves an estate, the tax ranges from 2 per cent on net estates up to $1,000, to 70 per cent on estates over $5,000,000, with a $40,000 exemption.

What inducement is there for an individual who has worked and saved money, to invest it in an undertaking that would employ labor? Why run the risk?

The American people are hardy. They are pioneers. They are energetic. They want to do things. But the mounting trend in taxation and the confiscatory inheritance taxes which destroy life-time savings, may break the heart of private initiative and enterprise.

It will be a grim crop the tax gatherer reaps as he starts harvesting the estate taxes of America. He may gather one good crop from each family but, in his greed, it looks as if he would fail to leave enough seed to provide "profitable" income or inheritance taxes in the future.

DO YOUR PART!

Fire Prevention Week is to be observed from October 6 to 12. And here is a thought worth considering in the meantime:

Friendly fire—fire under control—is one of man's greatest boons. It keeps us warm, cooks our foods, motivates our industries, and serves us in countless other ways.

Unfriendly fire—fire out of control—is one of man's greatest enemies. It destroys property—causing irreparable economic loss. It menaces life. It hampers progress. It threatens community development, and industrial activity and employment.

A building, for example, represents something beside money. It represents energy, achievement, labor. If it is a factory building, it represents creative, productive wealth. When fire destroys that building, insurance will give back part of the money it cost, but nothing can give back the energy that was wasted. Nothing can make up for the work lost, the jobs destroyed, the diminished purchasing power the fire caused. The indirect costs of fire—costs which cannot be put into a balance sheet—are the real measure of our national fire waste. Those indirect costs are many times the direct costs.

Somewhere, as you read this, a home is being burned to the ground. A factory building is a smoldering ruin. A man is screaming in pain from a burn that will prove fatal. All this is the result of someone's oversight, someone's carelessness, someone's stupidity. Are you willing to do your part to minimize such happenings in the future?

FORCING US INTO INFLATION

In a recent article, Paul Mallon, the well known Washington correspondent, wrote: "The truth is the treasury does not know what its receipts and expenditures will be next month. Its haziness about the future expands at the contemplation of each sheet on the calendar. It cannot have even a faintly worthwhile opinion beyond next year."

This is in line with the theory that many thinking Americans have been holding for some time—that federal finance is in a hopelessly chaotic condition. Forecasts as to the future revenue have no sound basis—they usually represent optimism, rather than realism. The government continues to spend its farther into debt—and apparently hasn't the slightest idea of where the money is to come from to meet the obligations.

One inevitable result of such a policy is constantly mounting taxes—along with new taxes. Another, and perhaps more menacing possibility, is inflation. "All the tax laws in the world cannot produce revenue when personal pocketbooks and industrial bank balances run dry. When that happens, inflation—which can be defined as cheapening and degrading the currency—becomes the "easy" way out.

The perils of inflation need no description—the tragic examples of Germany and other countries which experienced inflationary periods are well known. If we are to avoid such social and economic tragedies at home, government finance must undergo a thorough overhauling, both in principle and practice.

SELF-HELP SUCCEEDS

The agricultural cooperative movement is making rapid strides among dairy farmers.

The United States National Milk Producers' Federation now has 53 affiliated cooperative dairy associations, with a total membership of more than 360,000 farmers distributed over 40 states. Their annual production is valued at $250,000,000.

More than 35 per cent of all creamery butter produced in the United States is manufactured by cooperative associations. About a quarter of the cheese is manufactured by cooperative cheese factories. And about one-sixth of all the butter produced in this country last year was marketed by the five large cooperative sales agencies.

Progress such as this—much of it made in the face of some of the hardest times American agriculture has ever experienced—is exceptionally encouraging. It indicates a willingness to work, to expand, to progress and to try new ideas on the part of farmers. It indicates that the cooperative movement has been the most beneficial influence affecting agriculture in recent years. All other farm relief efforts may have failed or be in the process of failing—but the cooperatives march on, a testimonial to the American farmer's spirit of independence and self-reliance.

THE SMALL TOWN

The barber took the towel from the customer's neck, gave it a quick flit, replaced it, and started to trim a little closer behind the ears.

"So far as I am concerned," he said, "give me a small town. When I go down the street in the morning, and meet somebody, I want to be able to say, 'Hello, Bill, how's the Missie?' and he comes right back with the question of how my kid is getting along with the measles. He knows that I'm interested and I know that he is. I've known Bill maybe twenty years, and I went to school with the girl he married; you bet we're interested."

"A while back I spent a month with my nephew in the city; he had lived in the same house for three years and I asked what kind of neighbors he had. Shucks, he didn't have any neighbors; he couldn't tell me the name of a single family in the whole block, and the houses weren't more than 15 feet apart. It ain't no way to live. Yes, sir, give me a small town."

If there is one especial fault to be found with the coexistence of the city, it's because there are no neighbors, and it needn't be true. The people who occupy the house across the street are probably fine folks, if we'd take the trouble to be aware of the fact. It sounds foolish, but a few years ago, while living in the city, I was amazed to discover, quite by accident, that the man who lived next door and whom I had seen off and on for three years—and never spoken to—was very much of a man, that his troubles were just about the same as mine, and that he struggled to overcome them in very much the same manner as I did, and our families and mutual interests.

I had lost three years of pleasant association, and real friendship. That mistake wasn't repeated; thereafter I tried to be a neighbor and in doing so, found neighbors. The barber was right—but it doesn't need to be so.—"The Roadside Philosopher," in the Detroit News.

"It is difficult to describe the beauty—the charm of modern color scheme used in wall and ceiling decorations—the distinctly different effect of lighting arrangements—the new, 1000 coat fur vault—the fitting rooms. It is my sincere wish that everyone will join with me and my salespeople in celebrating our Formal Opening this week."—from D. M. Korf.

● Good news for farmers! Now it is possible for many more farms to enjoy the convenience and utility of electricity for lighting, water pumping, water heating, and every domestic and farm need. A new electric service extension plan is offered on a broader and more liberal basis than ever before.

The amount of electric service you agree to use monthly has been reduced to 60% of what it was before. The new reduced minimum guarantee requires only a comparatively small use of electricity. Your rates will be the same as those charged to city customers.

In addition, you do not have to wire the complete farm at once. Wire only one room if you want—the kitchen, perhaps—and wire the rest of the farm house and farm buildings later on.

This plan is too good to overlook. Get in touch with your nearest Public Service office today, by phone, and ask for complete information, or mail the coupon below.

Lemon Meringue Pie
2 lemons
3 eggs
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
2 rounded tablespoons flour
Pie crust.

Mix one large or two small pie plates lined with baked pastry. Mix the grated rind of the lemons, the granulated sugar and the flour. Add the well beaten yolks of eggs and beat, then the juice of the lemons, two cups cold water and the butter. Put in double boiler and cook until thick. Turn into lined pie plates and set in the oven for three minutes. Beat egg whites stiff and dry, beat in the powdered sugar, pile on pie top and set in slow oven until lightly browned.

Macaroni and Kidney Bean Casserole
2 cups uncooked macaroni
2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups cooked kidney beans
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/4 cup bacon, cut fine
1 green pepper
1/2 cup cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
Boil macaroni in salted water 15 minutes. Drain, mix with beans. Fry bacon crisp; add onion, parsley, pepper and tomatoes, and heat to boiling point. Mix with macaroni and season with salt and pepper. Pour into greased baking dish, cover with cracker crumbs, dot with butter, and bake in moderate oven for 40 minutes.

Mince Meat Tapioca
Tapioca pudding is always delicious with fresh fruit, but try it with mince meat to give it a tang of spicy flavor.

2 cups milk
1/3 cup tapioca
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 package mince meat.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Add tapioca, sugar and salt. Cook until tapioca is transparent (about 15 minutes). Beat egg yolk and break mince meat into it. Slowly add tapioca, stirring all the time. Return to double boiler; cook until thickened. Remove from fire and fold in beaten egg white. Chill. Serves 6-8.

Malted Milk Baked Custard
2 eggs
1/2 cup chocolate flavored malted milk

1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk

Beat eggs slightly, add malted milk and salt. Stir until dissolved. Add milk and pour into buttered custard cups or baking dish. Sprinkle with nutmeg and place in pan of boiling water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until custard is firm in center. Test with a silver knife. If knife comes out clean custard is done. Serves 6.

Oatmeal Cookies
2/3 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
1 1/4 cups quick oat meal
1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/4 cup coconut
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter with sugar; stir in egg and add milk, oats, raisins, coconut and extract. Drop on buttered baking sheet and bake in moderate oven for 17 minutes.

Green Tomato Pie
Use greenless, firm green tomatoes. Cut off stem end. Have pie plate, a deep one, lined with rich biscuit dough. Slice the tomatoes very thin. Put the plate heaping, grate over about a half a nutmeg, put in 1/4 cup butter and a cup of sugar. Sprinkle with a tablespoon flour and turn in 1/2 vinegar. If vinegar is very sharp use part water. Add top crust and bake in a medium oven for 30 minutes. Serve hot.

"Dressed Up" Foods Tempting
A simple lunch can be "dressed up" with nourishing accompaniments. Why not try prunes stuffed with carefully seasoned cottage cheese? Raw carrots may be made crisp and frilly by standing in ice water a few minutes. Celery stalks stuffed with a mixture of peanut butter and mayonnaise are a salad in themselves.

A "Real Foller's" Sandwich
Peanut butter is the base for many delightful sandwich fillings—try it with crushed blueberries and with apple sauce. Coconut gives a chewiness that's different. For added tastiness, spread one piece of bread with mayonnaise and the other piece with butter.

Rice—a Fine Lunch
One can almost make a whole lunch of well-cooked rice. Serve with sugar and cream, flavored with a few drops of vanilla if you desire.

More Velvet Than Ever in Fall Mode

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WE ARE going to be more elegant in dress this fall and winter than ever. All the pre-showings of advance fashions declare for greater luxury in jewels, in furs, in fabrics, in costume design. Where there is luxury and elegance in apparel there is velvet. Which lends to the message we would convey—the outstanding importance of velvet in the mode.

There is simply no limit to the enthusiasm which style creators are expressing for velvet this fall. It's velvet everywhere this season.

Appropos of the craze for velvet which is sweeping throughout the world of fashions Paris cables the news of tailored cloth suits which are styled with velvet collars and revers. Several suits shown in early contour showings have velvet skirts with cloth jackets often of rough surfaced, bright colored novelty woolen.

The girl planning her going-away-to-school wardrobe will adore the new velvet-plus-woolen outfits. Consider, for instance, the cunning ensemble shown to the right in the picture. It is a style-elet when it comes to assembling the college girl's wardrobe. The dress is of stiff deep red (red of the Italian master paintings) velvet. The bodice is designfully stitched in squares. The cloth cape in matching red has velvet buttons and velvet flowers at the throat.

Black velvet, which is a thin velvet pile on an organdie base, fashions the handsome costume to the left in the group. Note that the flaring jacket is lined with the same gray printed organdie as makes the blouse. Linings which correlate the ensemble into an harmonious unit is a pet theme with fashion this season.

There is a boldly picturesque note about the so-called "pirate" dress centered in the trio. The unique bodice is of green mat velvet. The skirt is of non-crushable heavy white linen strikingly printed in green.

Velvet has become almost inseparable with black when it comes to talking from the viewpoint of daytime fashions. However, it is a little newer this year to introduce color—any of the dark warm colors that are booming for fall, particularly the wine purple and rich green range reflecting the Italian renaissance influence.

The favorite velvet suit for all-around wear during the daytime activities is linked with fitted lines. The very short jacket is apt to have almost a blouse trimness, with its neatly buttoned-up-the-front closing, and intricate seaming and goes for the skirt.

The shirtdress in velvet, begun by Mainbocher, is contributing a subject of exciting interest to the new style program. Speaking of color in velvet this trend is particularly noticeable in many of the early fall hats which are of velvet in delectable warm autumn hues. The little chapaneu in the inset here shown is an ultra smart plaid velvet toque with a green beret of curled to the left. The new berets of deep wine green or purple velvet are decidedly picturesque, some of them big floppy affairs dipping down over one eye, others with the new triangular and squared contours which are decidedly smart and effective.

Beauty Hints

By Jane Heath

GRAFT a pair of tweezers on a dabby pair of manicure scissors, and what have you? Tweezers, of course. They're the latest type of eyebrow tweezers and are warranted to do a clean and accurate job of grooming because they are so easy to handle and grip so firmly. In addition they allow the user an unobstructed view not possible with ordinary tweezers. The feminine touch is added to the handles, which are tinted in a choice of air boudoir colors.

It is no longer considered smart to pluck the eyebrows into pencil-thin lines which destroy the whole character of the face.

Today's aim is to retain individuality in eye make-up, which means following the natural curve of the brows when shaping them. Use tweezers daily to remove straggly hairs below the arch and across the bridge of the nose. This will produce that well-groomed appearance so desired by the fastidious woman.

A simple cottage pudding is made more tasty and kept "hotter" by pouring a lemon sauce over the serving.

Length of Skirt Becomes Issue in Paris Style Show

A contest over skirt lengths furnished the fashion fireworks at the winter style shows in Paris.

After Chanel showed the shortest skirts seen in Paris for several seasons, Louise Boulanger lowered the wide enveloped hems of her creations to seven inches from the ground, while other designers cut them to 12 inches from the floor.

Some stylists say women themselves may settle the matter by placing the hems where they seem most becoming in individual cases.

Skirt widths proved another point of controversy. Louise Boulanger varied her silhouettes, which had hitherto favored a form fitting profile with fairly slender skirts, by showing easy fitting day frocks with wide bias skirts and big peasant sleeves.

FLASHES FROM PARIS

Glamorous fabrics, jewels and furs abound.

Italian, Persian and Hindu influence reflects in new fashions. Glittering metal effects dominate throughout the mode.

Bells with dazzling colorful stone settings enliven evening gowns. Chiffon blouses are worn with velvet suits.

Most hats have pointed crowns, some in decided peak. Rich reds, purples and greens of Italian inspiration prevail.

Vegetable Shortcake

A tasty way of dressing up a few left-over vegetables—heat them in a cream sauce and serve on piping hot biscuits.

Quite a number of Antioch people are in attendance at the Wisconsin state fair at Milwaukee this week.

While taking his milk to the Antioch factory Wednesday morning Fred Loof of Grass Lake, had the misfortune to break his collar bone, in a runaway accident. His horse shied at a dog and started to run and threw Mr. Loof out with the above result. This is the second time the bone has been broken in the same place.

New Ford Arrives

One of the new style Fords arrived at the Antioch Sales and Service station last week and is being displayed in the show room to the public.

Adolf Pesat, a member of the force, has the pleasure of driving out from the city with a new touring car, and Adolf says, "She sure is a peach."

A great many interested in the new style have been in and made a thorough inspection and admire the changes that have been made. Mr. Rosing states that he has twenty-three orders on hand for the new style. It will be noted that there is no change in the price on the different styles.

Gather to Sing
The people of this community who sing are asked to meet at the grade school to discuss the advisability of forming a community chorus society. If there are enough people interested in this proposition it would be possible to have a director come out from Kenosha.

Extra!
Great excitement around the post-office Wednesday, everybody in line to get their mail order catalogue. Forty-nine sacks were received and each sack average from fifteen to twenty books and the postage was named at 9 cents each. Just think what the mail order house will do to get a customer and then in return the customer can't have a charge account, must pay postage, money order, freight, and express and many other unpleasant things just to get the satisfaction of making himself believe he is getting something at a bargain.

Think it over, patrons, don't keep the merchants worried all the time, they've got enough to worry about to keep the town going, while the mail order house only keeps themselves going, waiting for cash customers.

VERSATILE VEILS BECOMINGLY USED

New and Old Ways of Wearing Them in Vogue.

Veils are omnipresent, and apparently every new and old way of wearing them is in vogue. Wherever you turn, you find another fashion.

And again one must admit that there is reason in fashion. For they certainly are becoming and—the word is carefully chosen—seductive. Made has an amusing way of veiling the entire face snugly, clear down to the chin, and then gathering the rest of the veil itself high on the top of the hat, to a series of great bows and loops. Jean Patou, on the other hand, prefers to use them exactly like any other hat trimmings, except that they do a lot of things that other trimmings do not. For example, on a rather flat little brimmed felt he slips the veil under the ribbon band, veiling the front half of the brim and just letting the netting dip over the eyes. He then brings the rest to the back of the hat where he piles it up in two great bows, giving the becoming effect of height, but in such an airy fashion that it passes for one of the pancake modes that are so popular.

Molyneux likes to use his veillings all to the top of a hat.

Essely Soeurs likes gathered veils on all sorts of brimmed hats. A cloche of white velvet with a draped crown and a narrow pointed brim utilizes a gathered black veil, which all the back-setting bonnets invariably use a full front veil to break the severity of the plain face effect.

Lewis, the house which first launched the velvet three years ago, is thoroughly original in its emerald velvet toque, attached all over. This toque has a veil of black tulle covering the entire hat, worked to a point over the chin, and then draped from the back to form a scarf.

OF SILK-KNIT YARN

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

If you are of the knit-it-yourself persuasion this handsome two-piece will interest you, for it is knit and crocheted of a pure silk yarn guaranteed not to stretch or sag. When you come to think of it feeling that so much time and effort is given to the making of the hand-knit dress it would seem that the better part of wisdom would be to use none other than first-quality yarn.

The satisfaction of being the happy possessor of as handsome and exquisite a frock as the model illustrated is beyond calculation. The blouse is crocheted of the shantung silk yarn while the shapely skirt is skillfully knitted of the same—stunning in black or any of the new rich Italian renaissance reds or purples or green, also charming in the pastel shades.

Great Shawl Affairs Will Appear on Coats for Fall

Brayer shows new collar treatments on fall coats—great shawl affairs, high at the back, tapering down to the waist in front. These come in bi-color effects. One beige coat has a double shawl collar, half black and half beige, used crosswise. A black lagoon repeats this effect in black and white. Another has large white fur coin dots on a black caracul collar. Chanel, in her advance fall coats, features tipper collars with fur edgings.

Wooden-Bead Collars
New cowl collars are made of colored wooden beads.

STYLE NOTES

The new woollens are intriguing. It's chic to wear high-class black frock in the daytime.

All fashion glitters with metal effects for fall.

Designers are creating stunning new coats and blouse of gay leather. Of course you will be wanting to own a collar and cuff set of gilt leather.

Every suit should have its blouse of satin in one of the rich Italian renaissance colors.

Velvet and plaid wool make a smart combination for fall.

The WHY Of GOOD COFFEE

WHAT is the one essential beverage which makes or breaks the average American's day? Coffee, of course. We spend, as a nation, $300,000,000 a year for this delectable beverage, and yet a good many of us continue to grumble because we sometimes get coffee that does not taste right. There's a reason for this.

The only coffee that makes a good brew is strictly fresh, and the only coffee that keeps strictly fresh until opened is that which is packed in vacuum cans.

There's a reason for this, too. When the coffee bean is roasted, a gas, called carbon dioxide, is found in its tiny cells. This gas is under such high pressure in the coffee bean that it forces its way out very rapidly for the first twenty-four hours after the coffee is roasted and ground. In about nine days practically all of it has left the coffee.

More Reasons Why

The roasted bean also develops an aromatic or volatile oil which contains the aroma or flavor of the coffee and forms that part of it which is so delicious in the cup. This aromatic oil evaporates from the ground coffee along with the gas.

The oxygen of the air is the great enemy of good coffee because its reaction with sublimation of the coffee develops a disagreeable flavor which makes us call it stale. It is to preserve the flavor and oils of coffee and to exclude the oxygen that it should be packed in vacuum cans.

Coffee, so packed, is sealed in the can in a large machine called a vacuum closing machine which draws out the air and seals the cover so that no air can possibly get in, all this in one operation.

Maid From France to Louisiana

There were a number of young women sent to Louisiana in 1723 from France. Each of them had been given by the government a casket containing wearing apparel, from which they were called filles a la cassette, or casket girls. Other girls sent to the colony had been taken from houses of correction. It became at length a point of honor to be descended from the former and not from "correction girls."

Ideal Children

The boy most popular among his mates is he who is most cheerful and exuberant, the leader in games and sports, and unafraid of adults, according to research of a scientist. The popular girl, on the other hand, is the one who is neat, pretty and not necessarily a leader. The "ideal" girl must conform to adult standards.

Peculiarities of Children

Girls suck their thumbs more than boys and 60 per cent of adolescents bite their nails, according to a scientist, who also noted that jealousy, fears and sensitiveness do not appear in the average child until the age of four or five years.

Fate of Durazzo

Durazzo, a port in the young kingdom of Albania, was founded as Epidamnus by Corcyreans and Corinthians as a colony in the Seventh century B. C. A quarrel between the two groups led to the Peloponnesian war.

IT WAS hard to believe that the thing was actually happening. The Leo MacReady, who had never been west before, thought such dramas only occurred in fiction. Mrs. MacReady uttered a little suppressed scream of fright and pointed toward the gap. "Leo! They're going to hold up the stage! Oh, why did you ever insist on leaving the main automobile road and driving into this dreadful country?"

"Because," said Leo, "nothing exciting was happening on the main automobile road and we came west looking for atmosphere, didn't we?" He tried to sound jovial, but his lips were white.

Above them and to the right an old-fashioned Concord stage coach, pulled by four horses and with two men perched on the box, had rocked into view and was descending the slope. Beyond, to the left, a band of horsemen, shouting and flourishing guns, had dashed from behind the shelter of a pile of boulders and was racing madly to intercept the vehicle's progress.

Mrs. MacReady screamed when one of the men aboard the stage fired toward the approaching horsemen. The driver began whipping up his horses as answering shots came from the bandits. The stage swayed precariously as it swept down the slope.

Mrs. MacReady grasped her husband's arm and squeezed fiercely. "Leo! she screamed. 'We're right in the way! The stage is heading for the road, and we'll likely be shot. Harry!'

But Leo didn't need to be urged. He had estimated the spot where the band showdown would take place, slightly to the rear of where they were now located. His foot bore down on the accelerator and he bent grimly over the wheel. But speed was something to be wished for and not attained, for the road was unpaved and rutty, much more sullen to shod hoofs than rubber tires.

They went bounding at what seemed a terrific pace, yet couldn't have been more than 20 miles an hour because the stage, having gained the roadway, was tearing along almost at their rear bumper. Behind the stage came the bandits, shouting furiously for the coach to halt and emphasizing their demands with volley after volley of shots.

Looking back, Mrs. MacReady suddenly said tensely: "Leo! Something's gone wrong. 'There's another band of horsemen following after the bandits!'

"Probably the sheriff and his posse!" Leo replied. Abruptly his face brightened. "There's a town!" he cried. "We're safe!"

"Maybe," his wife answered. "If that's a posse the bandits are caught between two fires and we're in the thick of it."

Leo didn't reply. He had jammed home the accelerator, risking broken springs and axles in order to gain the sanctity of the huddle of buildings which loomed ahead, before a careless bullet pierced him between the shoulder blades.

The town was alive with men, all carrying guns and all rushing about aimlessly. As the MacReadys swept down the street, puffs of smoke began to jet out from windows and behind doors. The sound of shooting mingled with the shouts of men, the roar of the MacReady motor and the rumble of the stage, was deafening.

Leo saw a sign that read "Hotel," and skidded to a stop. "Quick! In- side! It looks as though this fight has just begun!"

They raced up the steps. A door opened and they ran for it. Inside a bearded man, holding a rifle and with six shooters strapped about his waist, grinned at them. "Just made it, eh?"

"Ca—can you hide us?" Mrs. MacReady asked.

The man with the beard eyed them uncertainly a moment. "O. K. Come with me."

He led the way up a flight of stairs. "You'll be O. K. in here," he said, opening a door.

The MacReadys looked around. They were in a scantily furnished hotel bedroom. Two windows faced on the street, and from beneath them came a bedlam of sounds. Already it had begun to grow dark, and the flashes of rifles and sixguns were plainly visible.

"Stay close to the further wall,"

Leo said, "I'll close the blinds." He crept across the floor, reached up and pulled down the shades. Then he wriggled back to a position beside his wife. Terrified, clutching at each other, they huddled on the floor there. Hours passed, or a period that seemed like hours. Outside the shooting continued, but as darkness settled it grew less intense and finally ceased. There was the sound of running feet and much shouting. The MacReadys heard someone say: "Lynchera!" And the cry was immediately taken up and repeated by a dozen throats.

Minutes later a dull glow showed against the curtain. Leo crawled across the floor and peeped out. "They've hung three men!" he reported. His face was white. "And they've built a fire and are celebrating!"

Mrs. MacReady gasped and slumped forward. Leo poked her up and carried her to the bed. After a while she regained consciousness, but was too weak to move. Leo lay down beside her and did what he could to be a comfort. A long interval passed, and then the red glow grew faint and died. The sound of shooting diminished and presently there was stillness. For the first time Leo relaxed. He lay for a long time, expecting to hear footsteps approaching their room, or a renewal of the hubbub in the street. At length, overcome by complete exhaustion, the MacReadys slept.

Day had come when they awoke. Leo climbed off the bed and timidly lifted up the curtain. It was somewhat of a shock to discover a quiet, unassuming and peaceful country; hard to believe that the horrors of the night before had actually taken place here. A hundred yards up the street three limp bodies swung in the breeze. Leo shuddered and turned away.

"Come on," he said. "Let's get out of here."

Below stairs a pleasant-faced young man was standing behind the desk. It was only when he spoke that the MacReadys recognized their host of last night, without his beard. He smiled at them.

"Enjoy our little celebration?" he asked. "I gave you the only front room we had left, so you could get a good view."

Leo merely stared. "Celebration?" he said, sounding ridiculously like an echo.

The young man nodded. "Of course, being from the East, you wouldn't know about Dusty Rembrandt. Worst hand! This section of the country ever knew. Twenty-five years ago today he was captured and hung with two of his henchmen. We celebrate the event every year by staging a pageant exactly as it happened on that memorable day. Those dummies you see hanging in the square represent Rembrandt and his lieutenants. The old stage is the one used to bait the outlaws into town. Sheriff Wells, the man who made the capture, led yesterday's posse."

The young man here. "All the men grow beards and the women wear calico dresses. The affair winds up with a bonfire and then a dance at the circle 'trench."

Leo gulped and stared at his wife. Mrs. MacReady said: "Then—then it wasn't real?"

The young man shook his head. "Looked almost real, didn't it?" he said proudly.

An hour later the MacReadys bumped out of town in their car and on their faces were expressions difficult to describe. Presently they came to a crossroad and Leo pulled up. "We'd better turn here," he said, "and get back to the main automobile route. It'll be easier driving and I guess things of exciting nature are just as apt to happen there as any place."

Mrs. MacReady nodded sadly. There was disappointment in her face. "I guess so," she said.

Rain Does Not Bring Worms. Worms appear on the surface of the ground after a heavy rainstorm, not because they have been brought down by the rain but because they have come out of their former retreats to avoid being drowned. There are rare instances of small animals, toads, fishes, etc., having been lifted from the ground or from pools by high winds and deposited some distance away with rain. There is no foundation for the popular belief that worms, insects, toads, small fishes, etc., can be drawn up by the sun into the clouds, to be later rained down upon the earth.

Where Motors Are Banned. Bermuda is the only place of any importance in all the world where motors are banned. The islands keep much of their seventeenth century charm because of the virtual absence of such vehicles. The longest road is less than a score of miles in length, and all of the roads are narrow and winding, so that motors would be unsafe, to say nothing of marring the peace and quiet.

Commodore Perry's Flagship. When Commodore Perry sailed on his expedition to Japan, November 24, 1852, he was given the Mississippi for his flagship. However, after his arrival at Shanghai, his flag was transferred to the Susquehanna, the vessel which was designated as flagship of the squadron. The Susquehanna was built in the navy yard at Philadelphia, where she was launched in April, 1850.

Settlers Followed Buffalo. The American buffalo, a clumsy and heavy animal, instinctively avoided soft swampy ground, and the gentler gradients when ascending hills. The first settlers of the West, knowing this, followed the buffalo trails as far as possible, sure that as long as they followed these buffalo trails their wagons were safest.

IT'S "DIAMOND JIM," FOLKS!

EDWARD ARNOLD and BINNIE BARNES "DIAMOND JIM" UNIVERSAL PRODUCTION

Edward Arnold, who has characterized many well-known historical individuals, brings "Diamond Jim" to life in Universal's picture of that name. He is shown above with Binnie Barnes, one of the women in the life of that character who made and then tossed away fortunes, as they appear on the Kenosha Theatre screen starting Saturday.

KORF'S, KENOSHA, OPENS MODERNISTIC STORE FOR LADIES

"The most beautiful store in Wisconsin," is the proud boast of Dave M. Korf, who opened his completely remodeled establishment at 5615 Sixth avenue in Kenosha this week. It is the realization of his dream store which he envisioned when he launched into ladies' ready-to-wear trade 24 years ago.

Carrying out the modernistic stream-line idea that was first introduced in the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition, Mr. Korf has gone far into the field of original creation to make his store outstanding in its field. It stands on the site of his original establishment but the comparison between the two is like that of the ultra-modern and antique. There are aluminum doors and fixtures—heavy blue carpeting—a whirling stairway inside fashioned after the noted Radio City Music Hall in New York—furniture to match the idealistic color effects of decorations and lighting—a new far vault of solid steel and imposing doors—dado walls and terrazo floors—a complete air-conditioning system to provide even temperature throughout the entire building at all times, winter and summer. It is the first store of its kind to be so completely equipped and one of the few in the section and must be seen to be really appreciated.

To make his service complete, Mr. Korf has inaugurated a shoe department with S. O. McKoy, veteran Chicago shoe retailer, at its head. Other departments and their heads are: fur, Mr. Korf; cloth coats, Miss Rose Ward; hosiery and lingerie, Miss Betty Baum; dress, Miss Lillian Donah; sport coats and suits, Miss Corinne Berg; and store manager, Bernard Wolfe.

Cormorant Fishing at Night
In Japan cormorant fishing is done usually at night. Torches are lit, and as the fish, attracted by the light, gather around the boats or rafts, the birds are let into the water. This method of fishing also saves bait, for in daylight fishing with cormorants it is necessary to attract schools of fish by pouring a large amount of bait around each boat.

Make Grape Jelly Now!

by Alice Blake

NOW you can make America's favorite jelly!

Successful and delicious grapes that make your mouth water at the very thought are coming into the markets at a rate almost fast enough to please veteran jelly-makers.

For three out of every five jelly-makers make grape jelly, a recent investigation has shown.

Grape jam is another favorite, nearly as popular as grape jelly. In fact, the jelly-making housewife averages thirty-seven glasses a grape season.

If you want to raise the grape jelly and jam making average, here are two recipes that will assist you:

Ripe Grape Jam.
4½ cups (2½ lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (3½ lbs.) sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, strip skins from about 3 pounds fully-ripe grapes. Boil pulp, covered, 5 minutes. Remove seeds by straining. Chop or grind skins and add to pulp. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor. If wild grapes, Malagas, or other tight-skinned grapes are used, steam, crush, and simmer with ½ cup water 30 minutes. Sieve and measure. Use 4 cups prepared fruit and add juice of 2 medium lemons.) Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hot water. Boil constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Pour quickly. Paraffin

Ripe Grape Jelly
4 cups (2 lbs.) juice
7½ cups (3½ lbs.) sugar
½ bottle fruit pectin

To prepare juice, stem about 3 pounds fully-ripe grapes and crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (Concord grapes give best color and flavor. If Malagas or other tight-skinned grapes are used, use 3½ cups grape juice, and add juice of 2 medium lemons.) Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a full rolling boil and add at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 glasses (8 fluid ounces each).
